Janet Recommends . . .

There were only three things in life I found terrifying: choosing the right husband, adopting a dog and having a baby (the dog and baby being equal but not surpassing the husband). That is until I read “Silver Hair, A Handbook” by Lorraine Massey and decided to take the author’s challenge to “say goodbye to the dye and let your natural light shine!” Massey encourages us to “learn all about the glories of being silver and letting nature lead the way in this picture-filled, step-by-step guide to beautiful, natural silver hair.” I am so glad I did, and highly recommend it to all who are ready to “find their true colors.”

Step Back in Time!

Step back in time and connect with the radio shows that today's seniors grew up hearing in the 1940s and 1950s! This group meets to read classic scripts, and performs at local personal care homes and in the library. Shows are re-enacted as they were originally broadcast, including commercials and sound effects! Are you interested in performing? Email Walker Evans at evansw@einetnetwork.net with inquiries.
